

PROJECT MANAGEMENT

BEST PRACTICES FROM PROJECT INCEPTION TO COMPLETION

CERTIFIED PROJECT MANAGERS ARE IN DEMAND

While the pace of IT job growth is slowing, the demand for project managers is rising. The Anderson Economic Group estimates an average of 1.5 million project management positions will need to be filled each year through 2025.

PMs with PMP certification earn higher salaries and many recruiters report this certification is valued by hiring managers even more than an advanced degree. There's good reason for this: When more than one-third of their project managers are PMP-certified, organizations complete more of their projects on time, on budget and meeting original goals. ### The Top 5 Reasons to Get Your PMP Certification

1. Credibility - PMP is a global standard.
2. Transferability - The PMP isn't tied to one specific methodology.
3. Marketability - It creates more worth and value for you in the marketplace.
4. Commitment - It shows employers your commitment to professional growth.
5. Relevance - The PMP standards are consistently and rigorously updated by practitioners in the field.

Prerequisites:

PMP certification is regulated and administered by the Project Management Institute, a globally recognized organization in the project management industry. The PMP certification process requires that applicants gain relevant work experience in the project management field. Project management professionals must show proof of 4,500 to 7,500 hours logged directly on projects. The hours required for the PMP application will vary based on education level [4500 Hours for Degreed Professionals; 7500 Hours for Non-degreed Professionals].

In addition to the appropriate number of logged project hours, you must show proof of 35 hours of PMP training to be eligible to sit for the exam. Taking the "PMP For Professionals Course" will meet that part of your prerequisite requirement.

Exam Information:

The PMP® exam has 1 multiple-choice Test of 200 questions with 4 multiple choices per question. Out of the 200 questions 175 questions will be scored. 25 questions randomly placed in the paper will not be scored. The test is to be completed in 4 hours.

35 Contact Hours are mandatory to meet the PMI® educational criteria to appear in the PMP® exam. 60 PDUs every three years are needed by PMP's® to meet their Continuing Certification Requirements for re-certification.
